Verification

Ohio University will review the results of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) for all admitted students. This review process, called verification, will decide if additional documents are needed. If incorrect information is found during a normal review of your FAFSA, you will be manually selected for verification.

Student Health Insurance & Proof of Immunization

Ohio University requires all students enrolled in Athens credit hours to maintain an active health insurance policy. Students that have an existing health insurance policy that meets the University waiver requirements may complete a waiver application to remove the charge for the University Student Health Insurance. If a waiver is not completed, or is denied, the University considers the student to be uninsured, and the charge for the University Student Health Insurance remains on the student's account.
